1672. 5 June, A.D. 1342. Walter, rector of Chiltone near Bruggewalter, appeared before us J. de Middeltone, commissary of the bishop of Bath and Wells, and confessed that he is bound to Sir John de Suttone, canon of Wells, in 17 marks. We find that our commissary cited the said parishioners before him and ordered them to be fustigated for crimes perpetrated outside the places subject to your jurisdiction. And that the matter of litigation may be removed, we made known to you that any citations, &c., were made for crimes committed outside the places subject to you. We ordain that as often as the said vicar shall fail in the said payment, he shall pay one mark to the fabric of our church of Bath.

1676. Ordinacio vicarie de Bergh.

Bishop Ralph to all, &c. Lately in our visitation it was found that the vicarage of the church of Bergh', annexed to the archdeaconry of Wells was so poor that the vicar could not be suitably sustained. And whereas in the process which by reason of the premises we thought fit should be made against Sir Roger de Mortuo Mari, our archdeacon of Wells, for the purpose of augmenting the same vicarage, a certain ordinance made by John de Drokenesford, our immediate predecessor, was exhibited before our commissary containing the tenour below written.

To all, &c., John, by divine permission Bishop of Bath and Wells, greeting. Considering that Master Robert de Wamberge, our archdeacon of Wells, holding the parish church of Bergh' annexed to his archdeaconry for the sustentation of 3 chaplains to celebrate in our church of Wells, for our safety and of certain our predecessors &c., deceased, and also in recompence for the damages which the same archdeacon and his dignity sustained in the loss or necessary alienation of certain lands in the manor of Middleton, once belonging to the archdeaconry, presented John de Hampton Meysy, priest, to the vicarage of the said church with certain portions to be appointed by us. That is to say, the vicar shall hold one acre of arable land in croft called Pynokescroft for the habitation of the vicar and his successors. The vicar shall take all oblations, obventions, alterages and small tithes. The vicar shall pay to the archdeacons 40s. in the name of a pension in aid of the sustentation of the said three chaplains. All other things shall remain to the archdeacon and his successors for ever. Provided nevertheless that the portions of the vicar and his vicarage amount to 12 marks. The vicar shall bear all charges ordinary and extraordinary pro rata.

Dated at London, xv Kal., March, A.D. 1327, and the 20th of our consecration.

We, having considered the faculties of the said church, and the charges incumbent on the same, have withdrawn the said pension of 40s. and do discharge the vicar from the same and we have augmented the said vicarage beyond the portions contained in the said ordinance, our withdrawal of the pension aforesaid standing, under this form. That is to say, the vicar and his successors shall take annually from the archdeacon and his successors and the church of Berghes, 12 quarters of as pure corn, according to the circumstances of the parish of Berghes, as in the common judgment of men would be thought fitting for seed, viz., 4 quarters of wheat, 4 quarters of barley, and 4 quarters of beans. As often as the archdeacon and his successors shall be deficient in the payment of the said corn they shall be bound to pay 40s. in subsidy of the fabric of the churches of Bath and Wells, by even portions.

1677. Day before the Id., Sept., A. D. 1342, at Everecrich. William Peytevyn in the presence of Master Nicholas de Cloebury and William de Coleford swore to keep all things contained in the letter which follows. This indenture witnesseth that although William Peytevyn, of Melles, is bound to John Le Botiller, of Haydon, and John de Coleford or one of them in 20*li.* to be paid on the feast of the Nativity of the B. Mary 16 Edw iii, the same John and John grant that as long as the said William shall honestly and peaceably allow Ellen his wife to live and be sustained with him the said letter obligatory shall be held in suspensio. If the said Ellen commit adultery or consume their common goods in luxury and this can be confirmed by trustworthy men in lawful manner to the sum of 100*s.* then the said letter obligatory, shall be held for naught. Or if the said William shall torment her by way of chastisement then the bond is to stand good.

1722. Same day and place.

Letters dimissory for Thomas Queyntrel, having the first tonsure, to obtain all holy orders.

1723. To all, &c. Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, greeting.

The smallness of the vicarage of Burgh (Berrow) the charges incumbent on the vicar, and the magnitude of the care incumbent on the vicar by reason whereof it behoves the said vicar to have a chaplain in aid of the exercise of his cure having been considered, we augmented the said vicarage under this form of words.

To all, &c. It was lately discovered in our visitation that the vicarage of the church of Burgh, annexed to the archdeaconry of Wells was so small that the vicar could not be suitably sustained, show hospitality, and support the other charges, and whereas in the process which for the reason aforesaid we thought fit to be made against Sir Roger de Mortuo Mari, archdeacon of Wells, for the purpose of augmenting the said vicarage, an ordinance of John de Drokenesford, our immediate predecessor, was exhibited before our commissaries containing the tenour below written.

To all the sons of the holy mother church, John, by divine permission, bishop of Bath and Wells, greeting, &c. [as on page 450].

Dated at London, xv Kal., March, A.D. 1328.

Dated at Woky, vij Id., Dec., A.D. 1338.

But as Sir John, now vicar of Burgh, retains no chaplain, pretending that he was by no means bound to have one, thereby claiming that no mention is had in our said letters of having such a chaplain with him, wishing to supply the things which were omitted in our said letters by error or negligence, we will and also ordain that the said John, now vicar of Burgh, and his successors who for the time shall be, are bound for ever to provide a fit chaplain.

Et etiam salvis michi et heredibus meis katiis forincecis que sunt extra terminos predictorum maneriorum, ad fundandam construendam et imperpetuum sustentendam quandam domum predicti ordinis Cartusiensis in honore Dei et beati Marie et sancti Johannis Baptiste et omnium sanctorum in parco de Henton in loco qui vocatur locus Dei. 1892. Bishop Ralph to all, &c.

The petition of the prior and monks of Henton, exhibited to us contained that their arable lands for cultivating are very hilly and stony, and the rents issuing from their water-mills are now slender and poor, and the pensions they are bound to pay exceed the value of the parts retained, so that they do not suffice for the food necessary for the monks, and to show hospitality. William de Littelton, precentor of Wells, has granted to them the right of patronage of the church of Henton, by reason of which they have supplicated us that we should cause the said church to be appropriated to them.

We, Bishop Ralph, by the consent of our chapters appropriate and grant the said parish church of Henton, now vacant, to the aforesaid prior and monks and their successors. Saving an annual pension of 6s. 8d. to the fabric of our church at Wells, and a pension of 40d. to our archdeacon of Wells in recompence of the fruits at the time of the vacancy of the said church. Saving also to the vicar in the same at the presentation of the precentor of Wells a suitable portion which we assess thus. The vicar shall have all small tithes with the altarage. The said vicar shall also take from the said religious men *4*li. every year, and two waggon loads of wood for fuel or 3s., and one waggon load of straw. The vicar shall have the dwelling-house for the parish chaplain now situated near the church. A "placea" shall be built at the costs of the said religious men. The monks shall repair the books and ornaments for this time only, and then the vicar is bound to do it. Moreover we ordain that the precentor shall nominate two fit men for the vicarage, and the precentor shall present one of the two chosen by the religious men to us when the vicarage shall be vacant.

We order you to let the bishop know that he shall be before us in our chancery on the quindene of Easter next to show if he has or knows anything to say wherefore he should not receive a caution from the said Thomas to obey the order of the church that he may obtain the benefit of absolution, and that the justices may proceed in the said plea according to the law and custom of England.

To the venerable father in Christ Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, the official of the court of Canterbury, greeting, &c.

We have received the complaint of Thomas Conduyt, of your diocese, containing that you fulminated the sentence of greater excommunication on him the said Thomas he not being lawfully cited, &c.

We cite you, &c.

London, Kal., Dec., A.D. 1345

But because the said Thomas Conduit appearing at a certain day and place before the issuing of the said order upon certain articles concerning the mere correction of his soul to be objected to him ex officio nostro was cited and did not take care Fol. 307. to appear, our commissary thought, as was right, that he was contumacious. We afterwards, by your order, assigned Wednesday next after Epiphany for the said Thomas Conduyt to receive fulness of justice in the parish church of Banewell. At which day and place William C. proctor of the said Thomas appeared before our commissary for him. On whom our commissary offered to bestow the benefit of absolution, he being prepared, nevertheless, to take the oath to stand to the orders of the church concerning the contumacy. Dated at Banewell, ix Kal., Feb., A.D. above.

Edwardus Dei gratia rex Anglie et Francie et dominus Hibernie venerabili in Christo patri J. eadem gratio archiepiscopo Cantuar', &c., salutem. Satis scitis immo vos sicut ceteri fideles nostri quadam onerosa participatione sensistis quantum guerrarum incomodi fuimus a tempore suscepti regiminis continue lacesiti, et cum pridem captis treugis in Britanniam per mediationem domini summi pontificis pacis amenitas provenire speraretur subito quietis applausis in horridam transiit tempestatem. Nam Philippus de Valesio qui ad nostri et nostrorum subversionem quinio nationis Anglicane delectionem pro viribus elaborat sub umbra dictarum treugarum plura commisit, per que dicte treuge noscuntur notorie violate, sicque guerram resumere compellimur, novit altissimus et inviti. Unde et si ipsius adversarii nostri thesauris et potencia nostris nimis preponderent et ipse per dolosa consilia prevalere satagat in iniquitate sua: nos tamen non de terrena, sed de divina potencia, ac nostra confisi justicia, tam pro defensione ecclesie et regni nostri Anglie ac aliarum terrarum nostrarum, quam hereditariorum que dictus Philippus nobis detinet et injuste, progressum nostrum forciolem quo possumus sicut impellit extrema necessitas, ordinavimus, ultra mare, &c. Et quia ad hujusmodi gratiam consequendam vestrorum et aliorum fidelium orationum suffragia nobis speramus plurimum oportuna, cum in facto nostro, ne dum privata nostra, sed communia fidelium nostrorum versentur pericula velitis pro dicto progressu nostro preces devotas effundere, &c. 2301. Bishop Ralph to the archdeacon or his official.

In the progress of our visitation, when making our transit through the town of Jevale on Sunday next before the feast of St. Martin last, and whilst we caused the divine office to be chanted, at the hour of vespers on the said Sunday, in the parish church of Jevale, certain sons of perdition, forming the community of the said town, having assembled in a numerous multitude with bows, arrows, iron bars, stones and other kinds of arms, fiercely wounded very many of our servants of God to the abundant spilling of blood. But not content with these evil doings they entered into the said church with great strife and shut us and our servants in the said church until the darkness of the night of the same day. And afterwards they incarcerated us and our servants in the rectory of the said church until on the day following the neighbours, devout sons of the church and all worthy of commendation, delivered us from so great danger and from our prison. All and singular which delinquents we declare to have fallen into the sentence of greater excommunication. We order you that you denounce the said favourers in all the churches under your jurisdiction.

Dated, &c.

This mandate was directed to the archdeacons of Wells, Taunton, Bath, the dean of Wells, the rector of Stokedenyys and the perpetual vicar of Jevale under the same tenour.

2303. Bishop Ralph to the perpetual vicar of Jevale.

Although lately we declared the town of Jevale, the villages or hamlets of the same to lie under interdict on account of the demerits of the sons of Belial being there who rushed to the irreverence of our pontifical dignity and to the no small injury of our servants whilst we were in the progress of our visitation at Jevale. Lest the instruments of divine praise there be suspended, the teaching of Christ diminished and the devotion of the beloved of God be weakened, we suspend the said interdict until the Epiphany of the Lord next to come.

Wyvelscombe, 5 Dec., A.D. 1349.

2304. Bishop Ralph to the rector of Thorne.

The cemetery of the parish church of Jevale is polluted by the violent effusion of human blood that dead bodies cannot be buried before reconciliation without offence to the law; and although the bodies of the deceased persons ought to be borne to the cemeteries of our churches of Bath and Wells and there to be buried. We, nevertheless, wishing to mitigate this rigour, order you that, when the bodies of the parish of Jevale come to be buried at your church, you receive and admit them to burial until otherwise you shall have orders from us.

Wyvelscomb, 5 Oct., A.D. 1349.

A like letter was directed to the perpetual vicar of Modeforde and under the same date.

That is to say, that each of them shall restore to you all the arms which they used in the assault, to be kept by you until we order what shall be done with them. Each of them shall stand on Sundays on a lofty place of the said church bare headed, &c., whilst the divine offices are being celebrated, he shall hold a taper of one pound of wax burning and shall offer it to him celebrating mass. The cause of the punishment shall be expounded to the clergy and people there in the vulgar tongue. He shall go for the three days of the market of Jevele through the middle of the same and shall be fustigated by a priest.

Wyvelscomb, 5 Dec., A.D. 1349.

2306. Bishop Ralph to the perpetual vicar of Jevele.

That is to say, he would go round the church of Jevele three times on Sundays and feast days before the procession to be made on that occasion with bare head and feet, &c., in penitential manner, and whilst high mass is being celebrated he shall hold a taper of the weight of one pound of wax in his hand, which, when the punishment has been gone through he shall offer to the high altar there, and the chaplain celebrating the mass shall expound the cause of the said punishment to the clergy and the people in the vulgar. He shall go through the market there on the three days of the market next following in like manner and round the churches of Wells, Bath, Glaston, Bristol and Somerton. From the town of Jevele shall visit Christ Church, Canterbury, in honour of St. Thomas the Martyr, in penitential manner. He shall pay 20*li.* to the said lord or his receiver of Wells.

In the visitation which we exercised in your monastery last summer it was detected, amongst other things, that if John de Wamberge, then being chamberlain of the said monastery should die, the said monastery would suffer heavily in temporal affairs. 2428. In the roll of the memoranda of the Exchequer for the term of Holy Trinity in the 22nd year of the reign of King Edward iii after the Conquest.

The King's writ to the treasurer and barons of the Exchequer. On the behalf of Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, it has been pointed out to us, complaining that, whereas divers tenants of 16½ knight's fees and the fourth part of a fee in certain villis in the hundreds of Wynterstoke, Chyw and Wells, Kyngesbury, Welw and Bath Foreyn hold of the said bishopric in demesne and the same tenants by their proper hands have paid that which pertains to us for those fees for the aid of 40*l*. to make our eldest son a knight, you nevertheless, by the evidence of a certain inquisition taken in the time of our grandfather before the collectors of the aid granted to marry his eldest daughter, cause the said bishop to be distrained for 33*l*. 10*s*. by reason of the same aid. When you have searched the rolls and memoranda of the Exchequer and the said inquisition, &c., if it shall appear to you that the premises contain the truth in effect then cause the demands to be surceased and cause him to be discharged and quit.

Witness, ourself, at Wyndesore, 22 June in the 22nd year of our reign.

And hereupon the bishop comes here now, on the quindene of Fol. 357. St. John the Baptist, by John de Pull, his attorney, and complains that he is grievously distrained by the sheriff of Somerset for 33*l*. 10*s*. and this by no means justly, for he says that he does not hold, nor did any of his predecessors hold any knight's fees in demesne within the hundreds of Wynterstoke, Chyw and Wells. But he says that divers men of the said county hold 16½ fees and the fourth part of one fee in the said hundreds and also in the hundreds of Kyngesbury, Welwe and Bath foreyn the particulars of which fees and the names of the now tenants the bishop delivered here in a certain schedule and for which 16½ fees and the fourth part of a fee he says that the tenants satisfied the King by their own hands. It is found that the executors of the will of the collectors of the aid granted to King Edward the grandfather in the county of Somerset were charged amongst other things for 33*li.* 10*s.* Likewise that the said executors were charged for 60*s.* for three tenants of the bishop of Bath, one fee and a half in the same hundreds of Wynterstoke, Chyw and Wells, viz., from Geoffry de Hautvill holding half a fee in Norton Hautville, from Walter de Sutton holding half a fee in Sutton Militis, and from Henry son of Hamon holding half a fee in Stawey. It is likewise found (amongst other things) that the King was satisfied for all arrears of the accounts of the collectors of the aid granted to King Edward the grandfather, except for 75*li.* 7*s.*, within which sum the bishop says that the said 33*li.* 10*s.* are contained, and for which said 75*li.* 7*s.* William de Whitefeld, late sheriff of Somerset, was charged upon his account, &c. So that the bishop nor any of his predecessors ever paid the same 33*li.* 10*s.*, nor does the said bishop hold or did any of his predecessors ever hold any knight's fee or part of a knight's fee in the hundreds of Wynterstoke, Chyw and Wells, by which they ought of right to be charged for the aid now granted to the King, &c. It is commanded to the sheriff of Somerset that he cause 18 men of the hundreds of Wynterstoke, Chyw and Wells, Kyngesbury, Welwe and Bath foreyn to come here on the octaves of St. Michael to recognize, &c. The same day is given to the bishop to hear his judgment.

[After several adjournments] On the quindene of Holy Trinity the bishop came by his attorney and the sheriff did not return the writ. Therefore on the octaves of St. Michael, &c. And it was agreed that William de Peek, the remembrancer of this Exchequer, shall be assigned by commission to enquire concerning the premises and that he have inquisition here at the said octaves.

At which day the said William de Peek delivered here the inquisition taken at Wells, on the feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross in the 23rd year of the now King in the presence of the bishop appearing by Walter de Temedebury, his attorney, by the oath of John Ganard, Geoffrey atte Grene, Richard Overard and others. Who say upon their oath that neither the said bishop who now is nor any of his predecessors ever paid the 33*l*. 10*s*., &c.

Therefore it is considered that the aforesaid bishop shall be discharged in respect of 33*l*. 10*s*. demanded from him for the aid aforesaid and let him be quit by pretext of the premises.

In the great roll of the 22nd year of King Edward iii in "Item Somerset et Dorset" (sic.)

The bishop of Bath and Wells owes 33*l*. 10*s*. for the same aid for 16½ fees and the fourth part of one fee there. But he does not owe therefore by the King's writ enrolled in the memoranda of this year in the term of Trinity and process thereof had, and also by the consideration of the barons noted in the memoranda of this year amongst the records for the term of Trinity.

And he is quit.

2429. iij Kal., March, A.D. above, at Wyvelscombc. The lord admitted John Wygot, of Estcoker, subdeacon, to the chantry in the parish church of Estcoker before the high cross, at the presentation of Hugh de Courtenay, earl of Devon.

I have received your mandate of 12 April, containing the tenour below written.

It has been intimated to us on the behalf of John Bouswayn, rector of Kyngeston, that he obtained the said church, and, fearing prejudice about his possession, appealed to the Apostolic See. But Master John de Sydenhale, canon of Wells, and Sir John de Risyngdon, rector of Jevale, pretending that they were the commissaries of Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, in the matter of privation, declaration and removal "dictum Johannem Bouswayn prefatam ecclesiam de Kyngeston et aliud quoddam beneficium ecclesiasticum quod de jure vel consuetudine cum dicta ecclesia simul optinere non potest nec poterat quovismodo simul adinvicem habuisse et absque auctoritate sufficienti quacumque potest et contra concilium generale in hac parte editum et ejus artacionem per mensem et menses de facto dampnabiliter tenuisse, quodque fructus, redditus et proventus spectantes ad eadem et provenientes ex eis, ipsa simul tenendo et pacifice possidendo habuit et percepit ac sic percipiendo fructus, redditus et preventus ecclesie de Kyngeston predictae post assecucionem alterius prefati incompassibilis beneficii dum eadem ecclesia virtute generalis concilii antedicti fuerat ipso jure privatus, rem alienam illicite contractavit, ac de et in eis furtum quodammodo commisit et rapinam; asserentes eciam quamvis indebite ipsum ex hoc irregularitatem contraxisse

Et quamquam pars dicti Johannis Bouswayn copias commissionis sive potestatis ipsorum pretensorum commissariorum pretextu quarum contra ipsum in ea parte procedere intendebant ac omnium aliorum actorum judicialium in ea parte habitorum contra eum, quas pars ejusdem nunquam habuit et de jure habere debuit, necnon debitam emendacionem et declaracionem articuli predicti sine quibus super eodem deliberare aut eidem commode seu convenienter respondere non valebat sibi dari, decerni, concedi et efficaciter fieri congruis loco et tempore cum instantia debita petivisset. Prefati tamen pretensi commissarii petitionibus dicti Johannis Bouswayn hujusmodi omnibus et singulis spretis pariter et neglectis in dicto negocio contra eum ad actus petitionibus suis prejudiciales ulterius processerunt.

Ac ad procedendum, faciendum et recipiendum ulterius in prefato negocio diem ad honorem Dei notorie feriatum prefixerunt eidem ipsumque circa jus et possessionem suam hujusmodi multipliciter molestarunt, inquietarunt, et turbarunt minus juste, &c. Fol. 362.

Fol. 367a. It has been intimated to us on the behalf of the chapter of the cathedral church of Wells that, whereas by ancient and laudable custom observed from a time of which the memory of man is not to the contrary, all jurisdiction over whatsoever places and persons of the deanery of Wells and dwelling in its jurisdiction, territory or district pertaining in any manner to the dean and the custody of the same, and also of the rights and liberties of the same, and the collection taking, preserving and keeping of certain goods, rents, fruits and issues, pertain to the chapter of the said church of Wells for the whole time of the vacancy of the said deanery, on the behalf of the said chapter, fearing prejudice, it was appealed to the Apostolic see and for the protection of the court of Canterbury, Master Thomas de Bocton sometimes pretending to be the commissary of Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, and sometimes his official, notwithstanding the said appeal and other the premises by the authority and order of the said father, warned Masters Richard de Carleton, John de Wamberge and Nicholas de Iford, clerks, officials of the said chapter, now vacant by the death of Sir Walter de London, that they should desist from all exercise of ecclesiastical jurisdiction of the dean and that they should permit the said bishop and himself in his name to use the ecclesiastical jurisdiction of the dean under pain of greater excommunication. And the said Master Thomas publicly inhibited any one of the said chapter from obeying the keepers or officials. And the said Master Thomas and Master Simon de Fareweye, likewise pretending that he was the commissary of the said father, and Richard Sowye, the pretended apparitor of the said father, ordered and caused Sir John Boushayn and John Bondych, perpetual vicars in the said church, and also Philip, perpetual vicar of the church of St. Cuthbert, of Wells Joan Hawyse, Alice Redhod, Magota Bollock, Alice Horn and several other men and women, notoriously being in the jurisdiction of the dean of Wells, to be cited before them and objected or caused to be objected against the said vicars the crime of grave fornication with certain women in the said jurisdiction of the dean. Wherefore, so standing at the door, I openly exposed the said mandate and cited the aforesaid father to appear in the form ordered to me. Master Thomas de Bocton is said to be at London or in the city of York. I have caused Master Simon de Farwey to be sought in his church by a sworn messenger, but neither he nor Richard Sowye could be found, but I cited the said Masters Thomas, Simon and Richard, who are said to be servants of the same father, on the said 24th day at the door aforesaid in form commanded me.

Simon permissione divina Cantuariensis archiepiscopus, &c., venerabili fratri nostro Radulpho Dei gratia episcopo London' salutem et fraternam in Domino caritatem. Effrenata generis humani cujus conatus nisi justicia sua virtute reprimeret, ita ex sibi malicia iniciata excresceret, quod caritas extra mundi terminos exularet. Sane communis ad nos querela perduxit, et magistra rerum efficax experientia manifestat quod sacerdotes qui jam supersunt, non considerantes quod ad execucionem misterii sibi commissi, propter populum Dei et utilitatem publicam, non propter sua merita, dispositione divina, a periculis pestilencie preterite preservantur, nec erubescences quod eorum insatiabilis avaricia, ab aliis operariis eciam laicis, nequiter et perniciose trahitur in exemplum; de animarum cura que ceteris curis, a ministris, presertim ecclesiasticis, est merito preferenda, non curant; ad quam cum quis invitas assumitur; si humiliter pareat, de majori poterit merito gloriari. Sed curas animarum gerere negligunt et onera curatorum mutua supportare, quinimo eis penitus derelictis; ad celebranda anualia et ad alia pecularia se referunt obsequenda, ut sic antiquas possunt insolencias liberius revocare, stipendiis competentibus et solitis non contenti, sed pro eorum serviciis, stipendia exigunt excessiva, sic quod sub nomine simplici et labore debili, majore sibi lucra vendicant, quam curati. Unde eveniet nisi eorum irrationabiles appetitus ad equitatis regulam reducat, tum propter hujusmodi frequentacionem anualium, tum propter stipendiorum suorum quantitatem nullo libramine moderatum; plures immo plurime tam nostre quam vestre diocesis et tocius nostre provincie ecclesie, prebende et capelle remanebunt sacerdotum obsequiis destitute, et quod dolores nobis accumulatur, curati faciliter propter simile modum ad obsequia similia se convertent, derelictis penitus suis curis. Volentes igitur hujusmodi sacerdotum insatiabile desiderium, propter predicta pericula et alia dispendia gravia que ulterior conniventia adiceret remediis quibus convenit refrenare. Fraternitatem vestram requirimus, &c.¹

Fol. 370. Maghfield, v Kal., June, A.D. 1350.

2475. Bishop Ralph to the rectors of Hocton and Axebrugge, and the perpetual vicars of Banewell, Compton, Congresbury, Jacton, Cheddre and Wynescomb. Copiosa multitudo ad nos undique confluens querulis et clamoris insinuationibus nostris auribus intimavit, avaricie cevitatem et dampnande improbitatem ambicionis operariorum et servientium, qui 'laborers' vulgariter nuncupantur, in nostra diocese animos exorcantes in tantam temeritatem inpellisse, ut pactum ab eis initum juramento vallatum de serviendo fideliter eisdem cum quibus convenerunt in operis quibus sunt instructi, necnon et sacramentum corporale a dictis operariis omnibus et singulis, cujuscumque generis et condicionis existentibus in predicta nostra diocese moram facientibus, per Justiciarios excellentissimi principis et domini nostri Edwardi Dei gracia regis Anglie et Francie prudenter et pro utilitate publica exactum, et ab eisdem tactis sacrosanctis evangeliis prestitum, quod pro mercede et stipendiis laboris eorundem a tempore juramenti hujusmodi interpositi amplius non recipiant quam anno vicesimo regni sui Anglie percipere consueverunt. Ex putco insaciabilis avaricie lucrum sicientes iniquum temere et contemptibiliter violantes, vasa ire sue salutis inmemores perjurium incurrere non verentur, mentique eorundum in omnem viam malicie coinquinata cum iniquitate fedus inierunt justiciam et equitatem extra terram prescribere satagentes, &c.

We order you and each of you that you cause all labourers dwelling in your parishes to be admonished that, observing their agreements inviolably in future, they take care to reform their broken treaties with all the haste they can.

2629. Bishop Ralph to the prioress of Kayngton.

Our visitation in our diocese having been lawfully commenced, being hindered by certain necessary and urgent causes, we were not able to go to the monastery of Kayngton, we ordered it to be visited by Masters John de Sydenhale and Nicholas de Pontesbury, our beloved clerks. In the said visitation it was discovered that a certain Matilda Pulham and Alice Northlode, nuns of the said monastery, discourse with suspected persons and frequently admitted them and on dark nights the said nuns held long and suspected conversation with Richard Sompnour and Hugh Wyllynge, chaplains, in the nave of the church of the said monastery "et ut suspicatur a multis ac consequenter inciderunt in pejoribus. Dicteque sorores hiis malis non contente, prefata Matildis saltim, per insolencias, minas et tactus indecentes multos ibidem servitores solebat ad incontinenciam provocare," &c. Fol. 398.

"Tanta igitur mala urgente consciencia non valentes, in ulta pertransire. Ordinamus ut prefata Matildis, ultima in choro et in refectorio, et Alicis penultima loca quociens divinum ibidem celebratur officium, et in refectionibus teneant claustrum per annum nullatenus egressurum. Ad hec considerantes, ubi gubernaculum discipline contemnitur necessarium est, ne religio naufragetur, firmiter injungimus et ordinamus ut omnes et singuli masculi dicto monasterio assueti penitus ammoveantur, servitoribus dictarum monialium necessariis dumtaxat exceptis, ac omnes et singuli servitores ibidem remansuri cujuscumque sexus omnes et singulas moniales dicte domus prout statui earundem convenit verbis et factis decencius reverencia et honorem impendat quelibet earundem," &c.

Exstitit insuper in dicta visitatione detectum quod stupendum est relatione et horrendum auditu multisque evidenciis per viam notorietatis facti et confessionis partis compertum quod quedam monialis prefati monasterii, Johanna Trimelet, freno pudicie nimium soluta dampnato concubitus assueta inventa est, habens in utero, licet non de spiritu sancto, postmodum edidit suum partum in grave obprobrium et confusionem sue religionis et scandalum plurimorum ita nepharium et scandalosum crimen nolentes sub dissimulatione pertransire. Ordinamus et in virtute sancte obediencie injungemus quod dicta Johanna per annum continuum in una domo honesta infra secundam clausuram monasterii vestri maneat interclusa, secunda, tertia, et sexta feria . . . pane et aqua, suos calores macerans juveniles, et in aliis diebus quibuscumque per dictum tempus, panem, potagium et cervisiam pro suo victu sibi tantum precipimus ministrari."

We have heard that the said prioress received four women as sisters of the said monastery for 20*li.* for each, falling into the pravity of simony and sold several corrodies in the said house, our licence not being obtained or asked, &c. Nevertheless, tempering the rigour of the law with clemency, we decree that two of your discrete sisters and circumspect in temporal matters be joined with you in the administration of the temporal affairs of the said house, without whose counsel and their assent you shall do nothing.

The sub-prioress is negligent about delinquent sisters and refuses to be present at the morning at other canonical hours. We will that she be deprived openly in the presence of all her sisters by the prioress in the chapter.

(Here follows the writ as on p. 689.)

By pretext of which writ we commit to you to make inquisition and certify us.

Wyvelescomb, ij Non., Ap., A.D. 1352.

By the authority of which mandate I have made diligent inquisition, by which, as also by other lawful documents, I have found that a certain Master Richard de Thystelden was treasurer of the church of Wells and prebendary of Harpetre in the 20th year of the King who now is.

Which said Richard died on the 4th day of Nov., A.D. 1348. And subsequently Master Richard de Thormerton, who now is treasurer of Wells, was installed and inducted into possession on the 27th day of Nov., in the year abovesaid.

And that Master Henry de Harweden immediately succeeded the said Master [Richard] de Thistelden in the prebend of Harpetre and to him [succeeded] Henry de Ingelby who now is prebendary, but the times of the installations of the said Henry and Henry did not appear. I also found that the said Richard de Thistelden died so poor and burdened with debt that he had no goods whereby he could be buried according to the decency of his standing, nor was there anyone who would be the executor of his will. If he had any goods at the time of his death they came to the hands of his successors and were by them employed for the repair of defects in the same benefices.

Also whereas the prebend of Weremynstre in the church of Wells was vacant and the pope specially provided for it, and so the first fruits are due to the chamber of the pope. The fruits, &c., whereof Master Hugh sequestrated and we, his sequestrator, have published and announced that the goods of the said church and prebend are so sequestrated by Sir Hugh.

And, because we cannot attend to the collection and custody of them, we order you that you collect the goods of the said church and prebend and keep them under safe sequestration.

Wells, iv Id., Ap., A.D. 1352.

Also under the same form the custody of the fruits of the prebend of St. Decuman is committed to the precentor.

The custody of the fruits of the prebend of Wanstre to Master S. de Hulle. The custody of the fruits of the prebend of Wyvelscombe to Master Thomas de Bukton. The custody of the prebend of Combe Prima to Master John Thursteyn.

2712. Inter sollicitudines nostris humeris incumbentes, illud nostre consideracioni occurrit precipuum, ne in agro dominico monasterii, videlicet de Keynesham, canonicorum regularium nostre diocesis indecorum aliquid obrepit, sive viciosum quicquam perniciosam segetem incalescat. Set in illo potius flores honoris et honestatis fructus in ubertate succrescant, Ad inpendendum igitur jure ordinario nostrum visitationis officium, in dictum monasterium die Jovis proximo post festum sancti Martini proximo preterito curavimus declinare, quam actualiter tunc ibidem juxta juris exigenciam excercentes, quedam in dicta visitatione dilectos filios abbatem et conventum monasterii prelibati concernentia inter cetera detecta invenimus, quorum occasione aliquas ad honorem Dei et monasterii predicti utilitatem ibidem ordinavimus injunctiones tenore presencium exprimendas.

In primis in dicta visitatione detectum extitit, et rite coram nobis compertum, quod nec abbas seu alii obedienciarum habentes administrationes seu officia dicti monasterii consueta per ejusdem canonicos gubernari, vel conversi habentes administrationem in Tannar', Fabrie', Berton', et Wyneffr' in suis officiis suspecti ex certis causis ab anno quo pestilencie et mortalitatis insolita calamitas in partibus istis invaluit, rationcinia de dictis suis administrationibus reddiderunt, prout de jure et sanctorum patrum constitutiones dinoscuntur astricti. Necnon quod ad custodiam ostiorum claustralium deputati in officiis suis adeo sunt negligentes et remissi, quod viros seculares et mulieres horis indebitis ea ingredi paciuntur.

Item quod nec silencium canonici prefati monasterii pro temporibus et locis de regula et observanciis suis debitis et requisitis observant, &c.

Injunximus igitur ut officarii suprascripti de administrationibus suis predictis ratiocinia sua et compotos citra festum Pasche proximum futurum plenarie reddant sicut de jure et sanctorum patrum constitutionibus in hac parte promulgatis arcus obligantur, abbate dumtaxat excepto, &c.

Extitit etiam in dicta visitatione detectum et rite coram nobis compertum quod in diebus anniversarii bone memorie Gilberti nuper comitis Glucestrie dicti monasterii fundatoris ac pro anniversario cujuslibet abbatis et singulorum Canonicorum ejusdem monasterii defunctorum unus panis, una lagena cervisie, unum ferculum de coquina elemosinarii dicti monasterii qui pro tempore fuerit a tempore cujus contrarii memoria non existit, solebant elargiri pauperibus distribuenda, que a certo tempore penitus sunt subtracta. Item quod due partes conventus aliquando simul in refectoris non comedunt, sed ad alia loca divisim se conferunt horis consuete refectionis debitis. Ita quod vix tertia pars conventus hora debita in refectorio invenitur. Necnon quod camerarius qui modo est per aliqua tempora xli. sterlingorum predicto conventui debitus annuatim pro certis anniversariis per eosdem celebrandis subtrahit. Ac eciam quod panis elicitus et exquisitus de medulla tritici pro senioribus canonicis et de residuo tritici pro junioribus canonicis panis debiliior preparatur. Injunximus igitur in virtute sancte obediencie ut panis et cervisia ac unum ferculum de coquina pro anniversariis defunctorum, ut premittitur debitis, elemosinario prefati monasterii qui est, vel pro tempore fuerit, solvantur infuturum, prout retro temporibus fieri consuevit. Ac etiam quod abbas prefati monasterii, si due partes conventus singulis diebus ad minus non comedunt in refectorio horis debitis et consuetis, sollicite et frequenter inquirat. Et si per hujusmodi inquisitionem in hoc articulo invenerit fore excessum, presidens sub eo, cujus culpa illud dinoscitur contigisse, precipimus quod coerceat gravi pena. Injunximus etiam camerario qui est vel pro tempore fuerit in virtute sancte obediencie, et sub pena amissionis officii sui, quod decem libras ut premittitur ad quatuor anni terminos equalibus portionibus conventui antedicto integraliter, nisi rationabili causa aliud inducat, absque quacumque dilatione persolvat. Volentes quod canonicis minoribus sicut senioribus absque personarum acceptacione in panibus et aliis victualibus equaliter per dicti monasterii officarios ministretur. Occasione insuper detectorum in dicta nostra visitatione et rite compertorum ordinavimus etiam et injunximus, ut carte, instrumenta et munimenta quicumque monasterii prelibati sint in una cista recondita sub seratura trium clavium, quarum unam abbas qui est vel pro tempore fuerit custodiat, et alias duas gerant superior et Johannes Wamberge, canonicus dicte domus. Et postquam dicti superior et Johannes decesserint vel cesserint, vel alter eorum decesserit vel cesserit, suis officiis vel officio in hac parte, duo vel unus de senioribus et provectionibus canonicis dicte domus prout predicti canonici, clavigeri, simul vel successive decesserint vel amoti fuerint per abbatem et majorem partem conventus loco eorundem aut ejusdem celeriter subrogetur vel subrogentur.

Adicimus etiam quod nullus canonicus decetero cum laicis vel quibuscunque habentibus corrodia in monasterio antedicto quovis colore ludum ad taxillos frequentet, &c.

Cumque in dicta visitatione etiam fuisset detectum, quod Johannes Tankard, Robertus Grindere et Johannes Twynere, pastores monasterii antedicti, fuerant et sint super mala administratione sua multipliciter defamati, ex eo quod panem in non modica quantitate et numero surripiunt, contractant et extra abbatiam predictam asportant et ibi vendunt et alia indebite, consumunt pro sue libito voluntatis; necnon quod quidam Edmundus, servitor camerarii suprascripti, ex multis causis creditur inutilis in dicte domus prejudicium non modicum et gravamen. Injunximus igitur quod de premissis solers et diligens per abbatem et aliquos seniores monasterii predicti canonicos fiat inquisitio infra mensem. Et si de hiis super quibus infamati dinoscuntur fuerint convicti, eos et eorum quoslibet, a suis officiis absque mora precipimus totaliter amoveri, &c.

Precipimus et mandamus firmiter injungentes, ut cantaria pro anima Johannis Santmareys benefactoris vestri, nuper defuncti, sub certa forma in dicto monasterio ordinato, juxta sui conditionem, formam et effectum faciatis perfici et adimpleri.

Injungimus etiam, ut quendam Johannem Golynge, in infirmaria vestra nuper servitorem, quem nos ex certis causis ad id nos moventibus in dicta visitatione nostra a suo officio, necnon et quoscumque alios quos tunc per decretum a suis officiis amovimus, faciatis eos de facto et realiter amoveri, &c.

2768. Bishop Ralph to the prior and convent of St. German, in Cornwall.

Because, when actually exercising the office of our visitation in the priory of Taunton on Monday next after the feast of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, we found that Robert Cundy, a canon and brother of the same place, was an apostate and disobedient to the prior, and also made deadly threats to him, and insulted the prior, and said many infamous and abusive words against his due obedience. Because the said Robert, against our injunctions, would wander after curfew and carry on talkings, and had been reprov'd for these things by the prior and he said that he would not be corrected by him, but said if the prior opposed his word to him he would break his head. And that he was an appropriator because he appropriated to himself the goods of the said church without the leave of the prior and gave them to others at the time he was cellarer. Also, after he was removed from office he took money and other goods pertaining to the said office without any authority, and disposed of the same. Also he was a dilapidator of the goods of the church when he was pittancer, and in all the offices in which he was administrator he dilapidated all the goods coming to his hands, &c.

We found also that the said Robert committed incontinence with a certain woman, and also made deadly threats to the subprior because he would have made him observe the rules of the order. He hindered the entry of the prior to the dormitory when he reprov'd him for his defaults and made grave threats to him and yet perseveres in his wickedness. On account of which things we then and there caused the said Robert to be delivered to the custody of the gaoler, and we decreed to transmit him to another place of his order for safe custody until he shall be found to be reconciled. We ask and exhort you in the Lord that you admit the said Robert and cause him to be kept in safe custody at the costs of the priory of Taunton.

Although all primary and immediate spiritual or ecclesiastical jurisdiction over the clergy and people within the parishes of St. John, Glaston, Mere, Strete, Buddecleye, Schapewike, Merlynch and Sowy and other persons living in the said parishes from olden time have pertained to the abbot and convent of Glaston, institutions and ordinations of clerks excepted. And the said religious men by their archdeacons, officials, commissaries and ministers had been the sole keepers of the jurisdiction aforesaid, nevertheless Thomas Chyw, janitor and minister of Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, notwithstanding an appeal, cited Walter de Spekynton, parishioner of St. John, Glaston, and personally apprehended within the said parish, to appear before the said father or his commissary at Banewell in a place altogether outside the jurisdiction of Glaston. Wells, last day of Feb., 28 Edw. iii.

Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, to all.

Know that we have put in our place Hugh de Remyngton to receive and retain in our name full seisin in all the land, &c., which John de Welleslegh, &c., (as above) held in Welleslegh, Doultcote and Eston for their lives, which we have of the grant of Master Thomas de Bukton and William de Cammel.

Wyveliscomb, 26 Feb., 28 Edw. iii.

Know all men that I, Thomas de Bukton, have constituted Robert Calowe and John de Welleslegh, or either of them, to put Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells in full seisin in all my lands and tenements which William de Cammel and I have in Welleslegh, Doultcote and Eston, according to the tenour of the charter made to the bishop.

Wyvelscombe, 24 May, 28 Edw. iii.

Carta regis.

Edward, by the grace of God, King of England, &c., to all to whom these presents shall come, greeting.

Although by the common council of our kingdom of England it is enacted that it is not lawful for religious men or others to enter into the fee of anyone so that it shall go to mortmain, without our licence and that of the chief lord of whom that thing is immediately held.

Nevertheless for 100s., which Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, shall pay to us, we have granted and given licence to Master Thomas de Bukton and William de Cammel that they can give and assign one messuage, one carucate of land, 24 acres of meadow, 6 acres of wood, and 20s. 8d. of rent in Welleslegh, Doultecote and Eston to the said bishop.

To have and to hold to him and his successors forever. And to the same Thomas and William that they can grant that one messuage, 8 acres of land, and one acre and a half of meadow in Doultecote, which John de Welleslegh holds for the term of his life, &c., shall remain to the bishop.

To have and to hold to him and his successors together with the said messuages, carucates of land, 24 acres of meadow, wood and rent for ever. So that the same bishop can give and assign the same messuage, carucates of land, 24 acres of meadow, wood and rent to the vicars of the cathedral church of Wells to celebrate divine services for the healthful state of Walter de Hull, archdeacon of Bath, and the said Thomas and William de Cammel whilst they shall live, and for their souls when they shall pass away from this light, and for the souls of the fathers and mothers of the said bishop, archdeacon, Thomas and William de Cammel, and their ancestors and benefactors, and all the faithful deceased in the church of St. Andrew, of Wells, every day.

To have and to hold to the same vicars to celebrate as is aforesaid, &c.

(The reversion of the rest of the lands in like manner.)

Witness, ourself, at Wyndesore, 24 Aug. in the 26th year of our reign.

114. The dean of Molton and the rector of Estanty to John Fol. 299

We have received the mandate of your reverend fatherhood in these words: John by divine compassion, bishop of Exeter to the dean of Molton and the rector of Estanty. 117. Bishop Ralph to the official of the archdeacon of Wells.

We received the mandate of Simon, archbishop of Canterbury, on the 19th day of Jan. last, past containing the form within written, Simon, &c. Sane communis ad nos querela perduxit et magistra rerum experientia manifestat, quod moderni temporis sacerdotes adeo jam cupiditatis et acidiæ vicio infecerunt quod stipendiis rationabiliter non contenti pro labore salariâ vendicant et recipiunt excessiva. Salutariumque laborum spretis exercitiis adeo delicatis student voluptatibus, quod ecclesiis vel capellis parochialibus et curis animarum deservire seu intendere, tanquam parochiales presbiteri etiam oblati sibi congruis salariis recusant penitus et contempnunt, &c., in virorum ecclesiasticorum detestabile scandalum et exemplum perniciosissimum laicorum. Huic igitur morbo pestifero mederi saubriter et celeriter cupientes de fratrum nostrorum consilio et assensu statuimus et ordinamus, quod capellani annualia celebrantes et ceteri curam animarum non intendentes, quinque marcas ; ecclesiis vero seu capellis parochialibus et curae eisdem iminenti officiantes, sex marcas, pro suis stipendiis annuis debeant contentari nisi locorum diocesani propter amplioris parochie sollicitudinem vel aliam causam legitimam aliter pro suo arbitrio duxerint ordinandum &c., Datum apud Lambeth, Kal., Dec., A.D. 1352.

We order that you publish the said constitutions and mandates in all churches and chapels within the jurisdiction of your arch-deaconry.
